

Creek Home Farm

Salisbury Enhanced Forage Management

About the Farm

Management Practices:

- 4R Nutrient Stewardship
- Reduced Tillage
- Enhanced Legume Content

Adrienne and Henry Helder and their two sons operate Creek Home Farm. They are a first-generation farm that they purchased in 2012. Although the farm is relatively new to them, Henry is a third-generation farmer with roots tracing back to Holland, and Adrienne also comes from a farming family, bringing a wealth of experience and passion to their operation.

Adrienne and Henry are deeply committed to sustainability. Their interest in the Living Lab initiative reflects their desire to maximize the potential of their land while ensuring it is well cared for and productive for future generations. Despite the demands of farm life, the Helders stay busy raising their two boys and cultivating a legacy rooted in stewardship and innovation.
